At A Fabulous Group of Companies, Inc. (AFGOC) and all of our unique brands within our family of businesses, we are committed to protecting your privacy and the confidentiality of the information you provide to us at all times. This Privacy Policy explains how we treat any information gathered through your use of our websites.

AFGOC does not collect personally identifiable information (name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, etc.) from your use of this website, although you may voluntarily submit such information to us at any time. AFGOC will use your personally identifiable information only for the purpose for which you submitted that information and to contact you to answer any question or information concerning our products and services.

We will not release any of your personal information to anyone other than AFGOC representatives, directors and advisors without your prior authorization. We will never provide your email address or contact information to anyone other than a AFGOC representative, director or advisor without your prior authorization. Your email address will be used for the sole purpose of contacting you and to send information you requested, newsletters, informational tips, discussions, and respond to your questions or notify you about our products and services. Of course, we will promptly remove your email address or personal information from our contact list if you want us to stop contacting you (instructions on how to tell us to stop contacting you are included in every email message we send to you).

Please be advised that your web browser may provide certain information to our web server, such as the site from which you linked, the identity of your Internet Service Provider and your Internet protocol (IP) address. Please be advised that this information may be used to diagnose problems with our server, to administer any of our websites and to gather user statistics. We also may use information about the way in which you and others use our website to judge the usefulness and popularity of the various materials on our website and the links to or from our website. This policy does not cover the use of information by the third-party websites or affiliate websites to which we have provided links or may have an affiliate relationship and earn a commission or referral fee.

AFGOC reserves the right to monitor and disclose any information gathered from you: (1) if required by law, legal process or governmental agencies, or (2) if requested by law enforcement or other authorities investigating a claim of illegal activity. This policy may change from time to time. Please check the policy each time you use our websites for the most current information.

AFGOC, INC. PRIVACY POLICY | PG 2

We understand and value the importance of your privacy and will promptly honor your wishes, with no hassles. Trust is our most important asset and we would not do anything that would betray the trust you place in us. Our company's integrity and reputation depend on it, that's the fabulous way!

So rest assured that your private information is protected, safeguarded and will remain confidential, long with your purchases. We hope this makes sense to you, and if you have any questions, please email or call us at anytime!

Thank you for your loyalty, trust and confidence. We will earn it by protecting your information with the same devotion that we protect our own information. We know it cannot be any other way.

Thank you and make it a fabulous day!
